9. Objectives:
(1) To understand the significance of talent management in enhancing the productivity and sustainability of business enterprises;
(2) To study the best practices in talent management by global companies and identify those suitable for promotion and adoption in member economies; and
(3) To devise recommendations for developing talent management systems for enterprises in APO economies, particularly for SMEs, enabling them to be more competitive in the global economy.

10. Background:
As SMEs in Asia expands into global markets in search of growth opportunities, one of the greatest obstacles to success is a shortage of suitable talents. Competition for new recruits and the retention of those employees are issues that successful companies must resolve. Corporations seeking to grow and globalize may flounder unless there is an experienced cadre of individuals who can lead growth. Among the key trends and challenges faced in the region are the changing approaches to management combining the modern practices of multinational companies and traditional local practices, the shortage of human resources, and the competition for the recruitment and retention of talent. These trends are directing the ways in which corporations organize themselves, in particular in transforming the role of the human resources function. It is therefore timely to organize this study meeting to understand the context of managing talent in Asia and overcome its challenges.

11. Scope and Methodology:
Scope:
(1) Concept and principles of talent management;
(2) Emerging issues and challenges in talent/human resource management in APO economies;
(3) Best practices and case studies of talent management; and
(4) Strategic talent management for globalizing SMEs.

Methodology:
Lectures, presentations, discussions, and/or site visit.

12. Qualifications of Participants:
The participants in this study meeting are expected to possess the following qualifications:
(a) Age: Preferably between 35 and 60 years.

(c) Present Position: Managing directors, human resources managers, and quality control managers in SMEs; and researchers, professors, or consultants conducting research and/or dealing with talent management or related human capital subjects.

If any participant is unable to insure himself/herself as stipulated above, he/she should secure this insurance in the host country at the commencement of the project and pay the premium himself/herself. The APO Secretariat or the implementing organization will not be responsible for any eventualities arising from accident or illness;

   iii) Nominations, accompanied by the candidate's biodata on the APO standard form in duplicate along with a passport-sized photograph and the Medical and Insurance Declaration/Certification Form, should reach the Secretariat no later than 29 June 2012.
