7. Number of Experts Up to three experts and one chief expert

8. Objectives

   The project aims to review and update the KM Facilitators Guide (KMFG) and KM Tools and Techniques Manual (KMTT) used by NPOs and other KM practitioners as references and guides in providing training and consultancy services in APO member countries.

   Specifically, the project will involve:

   a. Conducting a meeting among experts to review the contents of the two manuals as well as the APO KM Framework, taking into account user feedback during recent events;

   b. Identify the parts and topics of the manuals and the framework which need to be updated from the viewpoint of recent developments in information and communication technology (ICT); and

   c. Prepare the manuscripts for the updated manuals for printing and distribution to NPOs and relevant organizations.

9. Background

   The APO KM framework was developed to provide a common understanding among member countries, in particular among NPOs. The framework was designed based on practical experience in KM from several countries in Asia, along with best practices from Australia, Europe, and the Upon adoption of the APO KM Framework in 2007, another expert group was established in March 2008 to develop a training guide and implementation approach based on the framework. The KMFG was developed by the group comprising representatives from India, Malaysia, the Philippines, Singapore, UK, and APO Secretariat to help KM trainers and consultants in NPOs to understand KM and provide guidance for its implementation. It provides easy-to-follow instructions on delivering training in the APO KM framework, including detailed notes on the key messages of each slide, trainer’s notes, and making the transition to the next slide. To supplement the KMFG, the KMTT was developed in 2009. These two manuals have proven so useful to NPOs and KM practitioners that the Secretariat has run out of hard copies of the KMFG. However, since they were developed almost a decade ago, and given the recent trends and developments particularly in various applications of ICT in various aspects of KM, there is a need to update them. That was also recommended by participants in recent APO KM workshops and training courses. The absence of any specific mention of the use of ICT in KM is noticeable in the KMFG and KMTT. Thus, this project will update the manuals to make them more relevant to the times and useful to NPOs and KM practitioners.

10. Scope and Methodology
