KUCHING: Naim Holdings Bhd, one of Malaysia’s leading developers and contractors added another feather to its cap by being chosen as an award recipient for practising the productivity-linked wages system (PLWS) by the Department of Industrial Relations, Ministry of Human Resources, Malaysia recently.

The award was conferred in conjunction with the recent Malaysian Productivity-Linked Wages Conference (My-PLiC) with the theme ‘Sustainability Of Wealth Creation And Wealth Sharing’ organised by the Department of Industrial Relations, in collaboration with the Malaysia Productivity Corporation, Human Resources Development Fund and the Tokyo-based Asian Productivity Organisation.

Naim’s Deputy Managing Director, Christina Wong said the award demonstrated the Group’s increased focus in ensuring fairness in wage increases among its workforce.

‘As the PLWS system enables team members to benefit financially by virtue of wage increases due to growth in productivity or performance, this system enhances our Group’s competitiveness and promotes stability in employment.

“In addition, the system plays a vital role in our ability to attract and retain highly productive workforce. In fact, the PLWS implementation is in line with our aspiration of being an employer of choice.

"We are thankful for this award and commend the Department of Industrial Relations for its efforts in encouraging the implementation of PLWS by corporate organisations," Wong remarked.
